Milford High School

Senior Olivia Craycraft is an all-star softball player for Milford High School, a four-year varsity player who has played shortstop and center field for the Eagles.

The Covid pandemic erased her junior year, but Olivia put up impressive numbers her sophomore year, when she hit a robust .557 with 25 steals and an on-base percentage of .606. For her efforts, Olivia earned numerous honors, including being named first team all-ECC and first team all-city. Her club teams have included the Cincy Hawks and the Cincy Doom, and she has committed to play softball collegiately at Washington University in St. Louis.

Active in community service and a super student, Olivia is the class valedictorian with a 5.3 GPA. She comes from an athletic family. Her father Ken was an All-Ohio distance runner in high school, a collegiate NAIA All American in track & field and an Olympic Trials qualifier in the marathon. Her sister Margaret was also a good student-athlete; she was class Valedictorian and an all-state diver who attended Princeton University. Her sister Beatrice was a first team all-conference volleyball player in high school and a walk-on volleyball player at Fordham University. Her brother Graham ran cross country and track at Bellarmine and brother Harris runs cross country and track for a Boston College club team.
