Chelsea Hatcher

Seven Hills School

This senior soccer all-star midfielder last year scored 22 goals and recorded 12 assists in helping the Stingers to a tremendous 21-1 record, the Miami Valley Conference title and a district runner-up finish. Along the way, Chelsea's fine play was recognized with numerous awards, including being selected as the MVC Co-Player of the Year. She was named 1st team all-conference, 1st team all-city, 1st team all-Southwest Ohio district and 1st team all-state (in Div. II). She also made the Adidas U.S. All-Midwest Region team. Chelsea transferred to Seven Hills from Florida in 2006. Chelsea comes by her talent naturally – her dad Billy is a former Cincinnati Reds player and current first base coach. A good student who is active in community work, Chelsea's favorite entertainer is Gwen Stefani. Her favorite athlete is LeBron James and her most-like-to-meet is Sen. Hillary Clinton. Chelsea will play soccer next year at the University of Tennessee.

COACH'S QUOTE -- "Chelsea has great strength and speed and amazing field vision and distribution of the ball. She plays with confidence, is a leader and has a wonderful attitude." – Carri Haskins, Soccer Coach
